Special Warnings on the Specifications of Products Administered to Animals

The Veterinary Medicines Section would like to remind all dispensers and veterinary surgeons to always refer to the specifications of the product when dispensing, prescribing or administering treatments to animals. Attention should always be paid to any special warnings regarding the correct use of the product that minimise the risks associated with the product. Dispensers and veterinary surgeons should in all cases advise all concerned persons on the proper use of the product.

Only veterinary medicinal products that are in line with the registration procedures of the Veterinary Medicines Section and distributed, dispensed or prescribed according to the national requirements can be used.

A list of registered Veterinary Medicinal Products can be found in the following webpage:
